*"I placed it in the Earth
 This bulb of mine,
 And from its narrow prisonhouse of night
 It struggled out to reach the air and light.
 And as it rose and blossomed to the sight
 Its absolute perfection seemed divine."*

—Ascher.

THE attributes of the Gladiolus are as nearly ideal as can be found. No flower is so valuable for garden and house, none are so lasting in garden border or when cut. Its sturdiness of beauty, its brilliancy, its matchless and endless color beauty make everything in its vicinity freshen into smiles.

Much of the garden joy lies in its color combinations, its masses of single color, its contrasts of two or many, in endless variety.

The color range of the modern Gladiolus embraces every color and shade in the floral kingdom. The sturdy growth, whether of the standard large flowering sorts or the orchid-like blooms of the Primulinus hybrids, all give such unbounded joy in the home and garden that the grower marvels that such beauty crowns his efforts.

We are always glad to give suggestions for plantings of Gladiolus and for the annuals which grow so well with them.

We hope that Gladiolus will continue to give beauty and pleasure in your garden, in your friend's garden, and in every garden into which these magnificent bulbous flowers have yet to be introduced.
